

Wednesday, February 13, 2008

Keep the light shining on cops.

Â On February 12 came the story about the Baltimore cop assaulting a teen in broad daylightÂ atÂ a major tourist attraction.Â Also on February 12 came the story of the Florida deputy who dumped a quadriplegic from his wheelchair (thanks to Jonathan Turley for blogging on this atrocity). Where will it end? It will not end before people raise their voices against such police brutality, starting with shining bright lights on such abuse.Â Jon Katz.

Posted by Jon Katz in Criminal Defense at 19:30